

UL Solutions responsible sourcing e-Learning platform

The UL Solutions responsible sourcing e-Learning platform offers self-paced training that is engaging, consistent and measurable. Brands, retailers and their global supply chains can access and manage specific training programs 24/7 from virtually anywhere and monitor progress. All available courses are developed by our subject matter experts and are continuously updated to address compliance requirements.

Training categories include various Responsible Sourcing (RS) topics, environmental and occupational health and safety risk management, as well as COVID-19 awareness. Training is continually updated based on industry trends and emerging risks within global supply chains.

Key benefits of using UL Solutions responsible sourcing e-Learning platform

Our responsible sourcing e-Learning platform allows brands, retailers and their supply chains to take cost-effective training at their own pace and provides educational courses built by technical experts.

- Provides a practical approach to continuous learning
- Promotes proactive education for both management- and factory-level employees
- Allows companies to assign trainings to staff and monitor progress through reporting

Why should you choose our responsible sourcing e-Learning platform?

The platform offers:

- More than 1,500 on-demand training opportunities available on any device in multiple languages
- The ability for account owners — whether they are individual learners or business account managers — to pull reports and monitor the status of scheduled and completed training
- Flexible billing options, including discounted training for bulk learning
- Dedicated technical support

For more information on UL Solutions responsible sourcing offerings, visit UL.com/RS

Safety. Science. Transformation.™