

Navigate compliance with confidence

Introducing Global Compliance Management (GCM): an integrated and intuitive software suite that provides real-time regulatory intelligence, continuous compliance management, and instant access to holistic guidance from experts to support your market access and product compliance strategy

UL Solutions’ new and innovative Global Compliance Management (GCM) software suite consists of three interconnected modules – Regulatory Intelligence, Compliance Portfolio, and Regulatory Advisory – that can be utilized individually or together depending on your compliance needs. Here’s how Global Compliance Management can help.

Every month, over 100 new regulations go into effect. Keeping up with evolving requirements presents an incredibly complex challenge that takes your focus away from entering new markets and growing in current ones. When you have total visibility into your compliance needs and activities, you’ll be able to take control and make effective choices to demonstrate compliance and maintain market access.

Regulatory Intelligence

Design products with a thorough understanding of market access requirements

Compliance Portfolio

Manage records that demonstrate compliance with requirements for continued market access

Regulatory Advisory

Receive holistic guidance from trusted experts

Regulatory Intelligence

We combine 125+ years of expertise in compliance with patented machine learning and AI capabilities to monitor, identify and analyze regulatory data around the world and transform that information into meaningful insights that enable you to enter new markets quickly and confidently.

Get relevant news and information fast

Access product-specific research and insights curated to your product portfolio and market access needs.

Support proactive compliance activities

Receive actionable intelligence for implementing changes to your compliance protocols with integrated workflows to help streamline compliance activities when delivering products to market.

Go beyond certification requirements

Author your company's product compliance protocols with assistance from proprietary AI models that help monitor and maintain compliance through your product delivery.

Retain staff knowledge

Collaborate more effectively and securely with team members and retain knowledge of the what/when/who/why of every decision.

Deep dive into the global regulatory environment

Access full-text regulations with intelligent search across our continuously growing regulatory library.

Compliance Portfolio

GCM makes it easy to manage all your compliance decisions. Establish a 360° view of all your critical compliance data and records within a centralized platform, to reduce compliance risks, lower operating costs, streamline resource planning, and improve global market access readiness.

Centralized digital portfolio

Collect and manage all your critical compliance data and records on one digital platform. Records managed by UL Solutions are automatically included, with the ability to add compliance records from other certification bodies and self-declarations.

Simplified compliance monitoring

Our proprietary monitoring systems detect compliance impacts across all your digitized records within the platform, allowing you to monitor your entire product catalog simultaneously.

Keep ahead of your compliance demands

Receive timely alerts about compliance impacts with prioritized lead times to proactively avoid disruptions and delays when maintaining products in the marketplace.

Understand compliance impacts

Regulatory news and certification requirement change alerts directly link to your digitized portfolio with the ability to book appointments with our market access experts to address the impacts.

Regulatory Advisory

Comprehensive advisory support can help you make your compliance activities more efficient and cost-effective while also preparing you to enter new markets with confidence. We work with manufacturers to identify areas needing refinement, design workable strategies to improve your process and measure the success of your efforts.

Augment your knowledge base

Work with more than 500 experts around the world with demonstrated expertise across 300 schemes and a range of emerging and established technologies.

Reliable expertise

Get customized research regarding your business objectives, including market readiness position, gap and impact analyses and more.

Expert knowledge when you need it

Request advisory services through the GCM online portal in just a few clicks.

Let's get started

The pace of change is unceasing, and you need the right tools, knowledge and guidance to prepare for new markets and demonstrate ongoing compliance.

Learn more about how Global Compliance Management (GCM) can support your strategic goals: UL.com/GCM